A NEW DIRECTION

- * We help authors build an essential profile, and we give them global exposure
- * We're the place where readers can download new release eBooks... FREE!
- * And our Showcase Gallery gives readers a unique opportunity to assess writers and comment on their work.

...and we're to the people who dare to make a difference.

The Globusz management team identified a number of genuine book-land needs... so we designed unique ways to improve the way we do business.

- * We saw the difficulties new authors face, and how hard it is for them to gain exposure.
- * We noticed that authors rarely get direct feedback from the people who matter most... their readers!
- * We saw the need for a free online book store.
- * We saw the need to raise standards.

We saw it all. And we did something about it.

We took daring steps to improve our services, and we found a way for authors and readers to work together.

Then we set new benchmarks.
And we put quality at the top of the list!

The Isle of Enniskerry

by Peter Colling

When Jim Henderson wins over five million pounds on the lottery, he decides to buy an uninhabited Scottish island. But instead of making it a millionaire's paradise, he sets about establishing a self-supporting community to bring it back to life. First he advertises for volunteers who will share his dream of living simply and working hard for no money - and he has a surprising response. Practical people like farmers, an engineer and a vet are eager to make a new start away from the stresses of the mainland, but Jim also accepts a topless model (with other attributes), a cockney tearaway and a single teenage mum. Best of all, two former crofters sign up to move back. The great day arrives, the island's flag is raised and the chosen fifty begin their huge task of settling in together. Ambitious plans are laid for the future, while romances spring up, friendships are formed and quarrels break out. Can the idealistic experiment succeed in this harsh and materialistic age?

Shark Bait

by Suzanne Floering

Shark Bait When his business partner, Jake Collins, is murdered, Duncan Scott, a successful financial advisor, becomes a prime suspect. Senior Sergeant, Tony Viscelli and Senior Detective, Mark Newman, have their work cut out, sifting through the evidence of a blood spattered jacket, matching Jake's DNA, and a threatening letter sent to him, just prior to his death. Jake's life passions were women and gambling. After a run of bad luck, his debts had rocketed to half a million dollars and Danny Brewster, the casino boss, got a little jumpy and started yelling for his money. Scott's son, Zac, throws away college, for life in the drugs-and-brothels fast lane. Brewster, and his associate, Mike Truscott, take the kid under their wings and prime him for a career in their seedy world. When Zac gets in over his head he turns to Julie Anderson, his father's second, but now divorced, wife. Click here to read more.

Great start to 2009

The Outnabout nipper 360 Strollers are designed to help make strolling as effortless and comfortable as possible for both parents and children. A great deal of care has been taken to ensure it covered the key issues raised by thoughtful parents:

- How comfortable is it for my child/children?
- How easy is it to manoeuvre? - Even with my hands!
- How practical is it in daily use?

These sets of questions such as its design reflect lightweight strollers that have been voted 'Best Buy 2009' at the Mother & Baby Awards for the Nipper Double 360 and the 1999 Pushchair for Pregnancy & Birth Programme for the Nipper Single 360.

Mothers and parents won't agree that the Outnabout Nipper is very comfortable, but their purchasing says why not use the Outnabout Nipper 360 for yourself today.
